From the Executive Director's Desk

Howdy Ags,

There's something about a new year, isn't there? Fresh with possibilities and no mistakes. The Houston A&M Club is doing some amazing things this year and we invite you to be a part. Come connect with other Aggies, help us raise money for scholarships, and give back to our community. Or, as we like to say, Attend, Donate, and Volunteer. We want the Houston A&M Club's impact to be felt more than ever before in 2018.

One thing I'd like for our Aggie Companies to consider is event sponsorship. Thanks to generous partners like Higginbotham, Cokinos Law, Cokinos Energy, Gershen Consulting, J&J Packing, and Tommie Vaughn Ford, we're able to keep our events at a low (or sometimes no) cost to our members and send more money to scholarships and towards fostering the Aggie Spirit in Houston.

You might have noticed that we have a new football Coach. Join us in welcoming Coach Jimbo Fischer, who we'll be introducing to our members this summer at our 2018 Coach's Night. There are plenty of opportunities to be a part of this event. We're currently looking for a Coach's Night title sponsor and have plenty of other sponsorship opportunities available as well.

If you're interested in sponsoring one of our many events throughout the city, or advertising your company to our 47,000+ members, please contact me at elizabethhamburg@aggienetwork.com or 281-543-5251.

the HAMC gets in SHAPE with Stephanie Gafford '12

Howdy Ags!

I am so honored to be your HAMC President this year! I think we have an amazing year ahead of us and I can't wait to experience it together.

Stephanie started at A&M as an Agribusiness major, later adding a second Ag Economics major and a certificate in International Trade and Agriculture. "I was lucky to have immediately fallen in love with my department, classes, and majors." As someone who always likes a busy schedule and full plate, Stephanie joined lots of leadership groups and fun organizations, everything from FLE, Dance Arts Society, College of Ag and Life Sciences Student Council, HOSTS, Department Rep, to President of a National Professional Sales & Marketing Fraternity.

"All of these groups and positions were transformational in their own ways and most certainly helped prepare me for my career."

Stephanie got involved with the HAMC about 3-1/2 years ago, first as VP of Activities (hosting a hugely popular Sporting Clays Tournament and chairing Aggie Muster), and then stepping up to Board Secretary and President Elect.

I've always had a love for Texas A&M, since I was a little girl. We used to attend Aggie football games with our dear family friends, and I got to watch my older brother attend A&M as well.

While my parents may not have attended our great University, they have been the biggest Aggie fans for as long as I can remember. I remember filling out college applications and asking my dad if I could send them to a few different schools – just to see what would happen. His answer was: "sure, but I'm only paying for one – Texas A&M University."

He knew that this was the place I needed to be, and he was absolutely right. When that acceptance letter came in the mail, I remember crying as I realized I was about to embark on a lifelong dream, to a school that was about to change my life.

Stephanie is an Account Manager for Dale Carnegie Training. "It's one of the most rewarding jobs that I have ever had, helping people transform through our programs. I work with companies and individuals to design training paths and pair them with the right solution to their needs." Stephanie is also a Certified Personal Trainer and PiYo Instructor. "Fitness has always been a passion of mine, as I grew up dancing and then, in high school, found my love for the gym. I guess you could say that I like helping transform people through both mental and physical growth."

At the center of all this craziness is Stephanie's amazing husband Cameron, her 1 year old son Beau, and their fur-baby Diesel. "I was blessed to marry my high school sweetheart, and we have been together for over 10 years now. He has supported me in all my dreams, and I can't thank him enough for that."

Stephanie and Cameron both share a passion for hunting and all things outdoors. "We look forward to introducing Beau to that life as well. We've already started pouring the maroon onto Beau and praying that one day he will share the love that we all have for our beloved Texas A&M."

"As 2018 begins, I encourage you to join us for all the amazing events that we have planned, and let's do life together as the Houston A&M Club!"

Greg Wood '03 is developing tomorrow's leaders through rowing.

Born in Virginia Beach, Virginia, Greg moved to Texas as fast as his parents would allow, settling in Kingwood when he was nine. Upon graduating from high school, Greg immediately joined the workforce, applying to Texas A&M about a year later. He was accepted to A&M Galveston, with the option to transfer to College Station after a probationary year, which provided unexpected direction in his life.

This year, the team celebrates 17 years of rowing for Texas A&M. In that time, thousands of Aggies have collected countless medals and grown from participation in the sport. Some Aggies have found their spouse, employment, and even started coaching rowing because of their time on the TAMU team.

In 2016, rowing came full circle for Greg and TAMUG. Greg is now the staff head rowing coach. In its second full year, TAMUG has celebrated one of the most winning seasons the team has ever seen.

Greg and his wife hope to bring this same success and excitement to the middle and high

Texas A&M Galveston is where I learned Olympic-style rowing as a sport, not just a TV event. I fell in love with the sport on my first practice. I rowed and raced with TAMUG and then ultimately, transferred to TAMU to pursue an engineering degree. Sadly, TAMU had no options for rowing, so I started a team! I worked with Student Activities to set up the organization and with Lake Bryan to procure land for the team. I then shifted gears to fundraise and purchase equipment to support a team of 20. Our first season of racing yielded a gold medal in the mixed 8+, trouncing Texas by over one minute.

Thanks to Texas A&M, I turned a fun college activity into a passion that will positively impact tomorrow's leaders through Buffalo Bayou Rowing Center. My wife and I have seen how rowing positively impacts kids- from weight loss, to better grades and scholarship opportunities, to development into respectful adults. The teamwork, growth, and team bond experienced in rowing is comparable to joining the Aggie family. Through BBRC, we aim to give Houston's youth the same uplifting and positive feeling that Aggies love, even if they never become Aggies.

Continuing the Legacy, Engineering the Future.

Although Aggie-themed gifts were exchanged all around, the "winner" was clearly "Jimbo's Maroon Kool-Aid."

Gig 'em, Aggies!

While Secret Santa gift exchanges vary from group to group, the idea can be traced back to the Scandinavian Juklapp or "knocking Christmas," where the gifter knocks on someone's door, throws a present inside when it opens, and then runs away. Or perhaps it traces back even further to the German legends about St. Nick's helpers, who doled out presents only to good kids. One thing is for sure...the tradition continues to evolve over the years, and the Aggie Memorial Lunch is no exception.

Meet our new Intern

kerigan nicole kent '19

Howdy! My name is Kerigan Kent, and I am a junior Telecommunications and Media Studies major from Plano, Texas! I am also pursuing a minor in Tourism Management and a Professional Event Manager Certificate.

Throughout my time at A&M I have been involved in numerous organizations that have made me who I am today. As a freshman I pledged Kappa Kappa Gamma, where I have made the dearest friends. I currently serve on the Texas A&M Collegiate Panhellenic Council as the Vice President of Public Relations. I am also involved in MSC Hospitality, Family Weekend Committee, and I am an athletic tutor!

I am a second generation Aggie, following the footsteps of my father who graduated from the class of '94. It is safe to say I was brainwashed an Aggie, who has been in love with this University ever since I could talk. This University has given me life-altering experiences that I truly couldn't imagine my college career without. My time at Texas A&M is something I will always cherish.

In April, I will finally be receiving my Aggie ring (whoop!), and I am so excited to see what things are in store. This summer I will be completing a Marketing internship in Dallas, and I hope that interning with the Houston A&M Club will give me valuable experience that I can take me with on my future endeavors. I am so excited to give back to a community that has given so much to me.

Former Houston A&M Club President Harry McMahan '94 is continuing his community activities - both as an A&M former student and as a Frost Bank vice president. In his role as a community leader in the Greater Downtown Houston area, Harry oversees Frost's philanthropic activities and generally keeps up with what's going on. Because 2018 marks the 150th anniversary of Frost Bank's founding, Frost is celebrating by creating and sponsoring a wide range of community events and projects, which means Harry will continue to be a visible part of making the Houston area a better place to live and work.

Frost Bank's Regional President, David LePori '81, joined Harry McMahan '94 and special guests to cut the ribbon officially opening Frost's East End Financial Center on Navigation Boulevard.
